

$750,000 Awarded to Nu-Energie for Railroad

Nu-Energie was recently awarded $750,000 dollars to bring back the railroad back into Phipps Bend Industrial Park. Hullette says, this is very ironic because this once used to be a site to make nuclear power and now we are putting Phipps Bend back on the map by creating Nu-Energie. We feel that the railroad is a vital part to our success, railroads are typically 18% more efficient than regular transportation and the emissions are cut more than half, not to mention if we were at full capacity would save over $2.4 million dollars in transportation alone.
